SANDOS CARACOL ECO RESORT & SPA, GREENEST IN RIVIERA MAYA

Santos Caracol Eco Resort & Spa in Mexico has just opened its eco-chic ocean view accommodations and facilities, making it the most sustainable hotel in the region. A variety of environmental preservation programs, educational eco-tourism activities for guests and the new eco rooms combine to make Santos Caracol one of the most eco-friendly hotels in the world.

Upgrading a total of 99 rooms, while maintaining the resort's ecological standard of reducing CO2 emissions by 70 percent, Santos Caracol incorporated new modern architectural designs for a more contemporary look. In terms of sustainability, each room has an air-conditioning system with low power consumption, a solar system to heat the water to eliminate using gas, an internal lighting system based on energy-efficient LED and in-room water coolers to reduce the use of plastic water bottles. Additionally, there is a new recycling system in place for wastewater.

Santos Caracol Eco Resort & Spa hotel is 45 minutes from Cancun's International Airport and just 15 minutes from downtown Playa del Carmen. The five-star resort lies on an extensive natural area at the edge of an exotic jungle surrounded by cenotes, mangroves and natural lagoons in an ecological environment harmonious with nature.

TRAVELERS CAN SWIM WITH THE WORLD'S LARGEST FISH ON ISLA MUJERES

Each year from July 1 through mid-September, whale sharks, the largest fish in the world, pass through the waters surrounding Isla Mujeres, a gem of an island located just six miles across the bay from Cancun, Mexico. These magnificent animals can grow to 35 feet in length and sport polka dots on their backs. They are called whale sharks because, like whales, they feed like on plankton, and are safe for those who want to experience the thrill of swimming and snorkeling with them in the open sea.

Boat tours offering the opportunity to see and swim with these huge creatures are available from Isla Mujeres, an island just off the coast of Mexico, easily accessible from Cancun International Airport.

The entire island will celebrate a Whale Shark Festival July 15–17. Isla Mujeres offers accommodations for all budgets, beautiful white sand beaches and excellent dining in the Caribbean.

Swimming with the whale sharks in Isla Mujeres offers visitors the thrill of a lifetime.

REAL RESORTS' MEXICAN PROPERTIES—LUXURY-GOURMET EXPERIENCES

Designed for the most discerning guests seeking a truly romantic experience, The Royal in Cancun and The Royal Playa del Carmen don't take luxury standing still. In a constant effort to improve guest services and amenities, while surpassing expectations, the luxury-gourmet, all-inclusive, all-suite, adult-only resorts continue to make enhancements to their service that inspire guest satisfaction and awe.

"A true luxury experience is a continuously evolving work of art," said Fernando Garcia, Managing Director of Real Resorts. "At The Royal in Cancun and The Royal Playa del Carmen we listen to our guests, examine new technologies, and continue to make refinements to our decor and our services. Our latest group of enhancements may each go individually unnoticed, but collectively they create a new level of luxury that outshines our competitors and subtly says to each guest, 'your comfort is our priority,'" he added.

Some of the new features include redecorated guest suites with comfort-designed furnishings and mood enhancing color schemes. In addition there are nuances such as adjustable LED reading lamps attached to the headboard, new luxury faucets in the baths, a foot rest with the overstuffed easy chair, a posh rug accenting the brilliant marble floors, and spa style bathrobes and slippers. Regarding service, guests will find an expanded wine list with more wines and liquors incorporated into the all-inclusive experience, as well as a broader wine list, including vintage wines, champagne and spirits. In addition, the complimentary room service experience has been enhanced: guests may still enjoy discreet delivery through the 'Magic Box,' or opt for a more formal room service on a well-appointed table.

SPAzul, the Mayan influenced holistic spa at each of the resorts, now offers complimentary hydrotherapy in addition to a full menu of spa treatments at special resort pricing.

These additions complement the long list of amenities and services that define The Royal experience at The Royal in Cancun and The Royal Playa del Carmen. These resorts boast the best location in their destination with wide expansive beaches, yet close to shops and exciting nightlife. Created for romance, they offer ambience, lavish amenities, sumptuous dining and gracious service.

LE MERIDIEN CANCUN RESORT & SPA RECEIVES GOLDEN KEY

The Mexico Concierges Association of the southeast region presented the "Les Clefs d'Or" honor to concierge Jorge David Gómez of Le Meridien Cancun Resort & Spa.

Les Clefs d'Or (the Golden Keys) is recognition given by the Union Internationale des Concierges Hôtels (UICH), which is present in 33 countries. The honor is the highest a concierge can receive and each member is distinguished by a pair of crossed keys placed on the lapels of their uniform which signifies knowledge of the destination and someone who specializes in the personal needs of every guest and ensures quality service.

To be considered for the award, concierges have to successfully meet requirements such as having at least three years experience in the position, participation in national congress, take a written examination that includes topics such as the history of Mexico as well as national and international geography.

Jorge David Gomez Carrales received the keys from Sub Director of the Board of the Association of Concierges Mexico and Martina Rodriguez, General Manager of Le Meridien Cancun Resort & Spa.

HYATT REGENCY TRINIDAD INVITES GROUPS TO MEET AND BE GREEN

Hyatt Regency Trinidad in Port-of-Spain, one of the Caribbean’s premier business and meetings hotels, is encouraging planners to take advantage of Hyatt’s Meet and Be Green program with a special discounted rate.

Planners who pledge to take the following ten steps during their meeting, booked and held before March 31, 2012, will receive a savings of three percent off the Master Bill: 1–Use products with 100-percent recycled content; 2–Print materials locally; 3–Minimize shipping; 4–Recycle during the meeting; 5–Rather than setting materials at every seat, place meeting materials, such as handouts, notepads, pens, etc., in a central location so attendees can take as needed; 6–Maintain room temperatures at an appropriate level; 7–Eliminate disposable water bottles; 8–Minimize use of other disposable products such as plates, cups, napkins, and utensils; 9–Select locally grown seasonal foods when planning the menu; and 10–Plan ahead for the meeting to make it easier and more economical to keep the meeting green.

Meet and Be Green is one part of Hyatt’s larger pledge to conserve energy, minimize waste and create responsible, sustainable corporate practices to care for the earth and guests. By empowering guests to do the same, Hyatt and its planners can help minimize the environmental impact of meetings.

With 428 guestrooms and 43,000 square feet of meeting space, Hyatt Regency Trinidad offers the largest meeting space in the English-speaking Caribbean. An expert team of conference coordinators, food and beverage managers, entertainment and event planners enables the Hyatt Regency Trinidad to customize gatherings for 25 to 1,700 people. Versatile function space includes small breakout rooms to two ballrooms, including the spectacular 16,000-sq-ft Regency Ballroom. Plus, the latest innovations in meetings technology, audio/visual services and translation facilities effectively combine advanced business service and amenities with cross-cultural communication. Guests who suffer from allergies or other breathing difficulties can rest easy when they book one of the 19 Respire by Hyatt Hypo-Allergenic Rooms at Hyatt Regency Trinidad.

SPRING/SUMMER DEALS AT LADERA IN ST. LUCIA

Spring is the moment when savings start to bloom all over the Caribbean and the West Indies' Ladera in is no exception. In April rates began to drop 30 percent over peak winter season. And in summer the value really heats up, as rates dip nearly 45 percent and the trade winds keep things blissfully cool all year round.

Those who reserve seven consecutive nights in a Hilltop Dream Suite pay for just six (a savings of $810 in spring, $715 in summer) also receive $150 Food & Beverage credit per room per stay (through December 20, 2011). With a five-night reservation in a Hilltop Dream Suite, a $150 Food & Beverage credit is offered per room per stay through June 30, 2011.

The Great Escape is a three-night package that includes all meals and most beverages, a "Soufrière Experience" guided tour, a one-hour massage at Ladera's Ti Kaye Posé Spa, and round-trip airport transfers. Summer rates start at $2,425 per room for three nights and vary by room type and season.

Romance in the Tropics is a five-night package that includes all meals and most beverages, private poolside dinner by Executive Chef Orlando Satchell, a "Soufrière Experience" guided tour, two treatments per person at Ladera's Ti Kaye Posé Spa, a sunset cruise, roundtrip airport transfers and more. Summer rates start at $6,050 and vary by room type.

For weddings, couples can reserve seven nights in a Hilltop Dream Suite, or a Two-Bedroom Villa and receive the Romance in Paradise Wedding Package free (a $950 value). Details are available online.

Peak to Beach is an innovative six-night package for two that in a single booking pairs two of St. Lucia's iconic hotels, Ladera and Cap Maison. Guests can experience the majesty of the dramatic Pitons during three nights at Ladera, followed by three nights at Cap Maison on the northernmost tip of the island, on a cliff overlooking the Caribbean Sea and with its own secluded beach. Spring/summer rates start at $5,300 per couple for six nights.

BIRD OF PARADISE IN ANGUILLA OFFERS SUMMER SURPRISES AND SAVINGS

The owners at Bird of Paradise, named a top villa in the world by Island and Ocean Home magazines, stress that Anguilla is not steamy like the US during the summer, with its island breezes and temperatures up just a degree or two.

Owner Jon Dill remembers Long Island summers. "You never need to worry about stifling hot days for your summer picnic on Anguilla, No jelly fish or horseshoe crabs to worry about and always the beautiful, turquoise water."

Seas are calmer, with water remarkably clear, making summer perfect for sailing to the barrier islands. Exploring deserted islands is great family fun. "Our concierge will recommend our favorite boatman to take you to Dead Man's Cove on the backside of Scrub Island," Dill says. "This is the last beach between the islands of the Caribbean and Africa. A great spot to find shells, sea glass and messages in a bottle. Also, all winter long the waves fill the holes in the coral cliffs with water, which, then, evaporate in the summer months, leaving sea salt for collection. My wife, Melody, uses it for bathing and cooking." Snorkelers or scuba divers will see big fish closer to the shore during summer. And turtle encounters are great family fun.

Summers are the Dills' favorite time on Anguilla, but "it's a tough sell for Americans who can only think of how hot and steamy the southern USA is and, of course, have hurricanes on their minds." With fewer summer visits, rates drop; visitors can save $1,000/night over high-season rates. Should a hurricane pass through, the Bird of Paradise will fully refund any days lost.

The luxury property is ideal for gatherings. There are two pools, multiple living and dining areas and each bedroom is a master suite, with outstanding Caribbean views.

The "Bird" will fit packages within a client's budget—from just the villa, to a villa with continental breakfast and daily housekeeping, or all-inclusive rates that include villa, chef and cost of meals. Their comprehensive website includes a video tour, floor plan and photos of every room as well as the hidden hideaways of this expansive property.
